If you look real close you won't miss a thing. If you concentrate really hard nothing that happens will get much of a chance to pass you by. Take that opportunity to look around again when you walk to class, really concentrate on the people you meet, remember the places you went that were really beautiful. Share what you find with others.

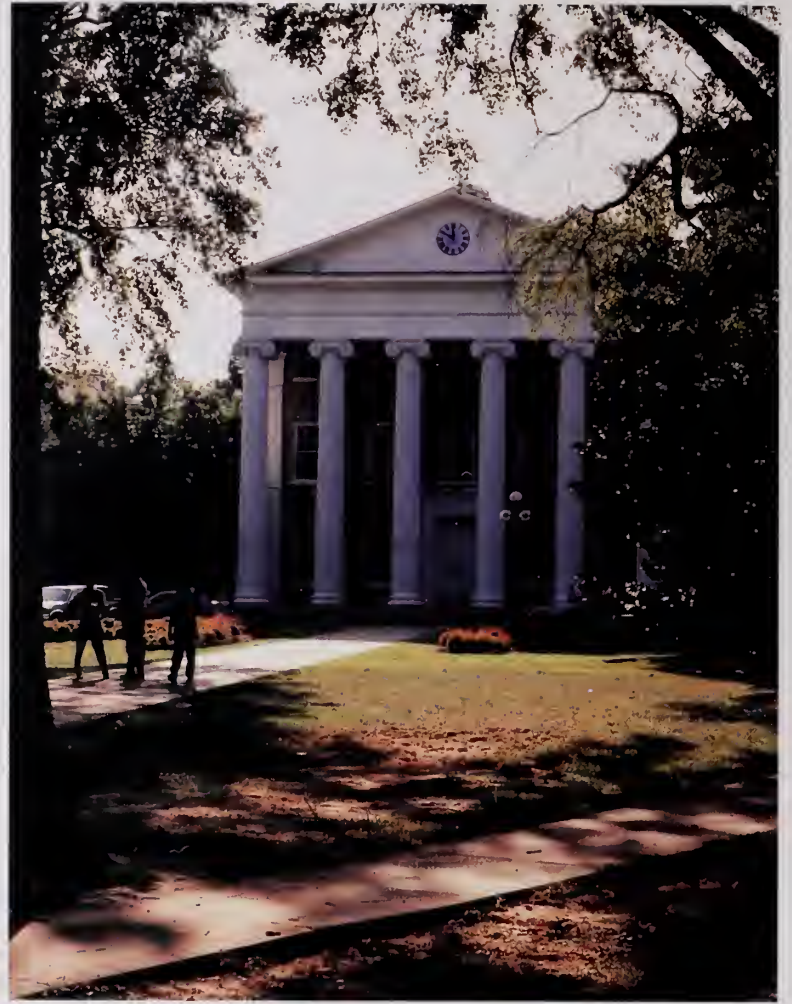

There is so much here at Ole Miss to explore. Every year something new opens up or something comes along that adds a new dimension to the college experience.

Think back when you first came here. I'm sure there are some memories that you think exclusive to your experience. Hold those memories in your heart, while constantly searching to create new ones.

1. Faculty children dressed up in all their favorite outfits to go trick-or-treating in Crosby dorm. 2. Nothing less than beautiful, the Lyceum in the Fall creates the perfect completion to the circle. 3. Oxford's own Hoka is constantly changing. This year the unique eatery and theatre was painted with a new face. 4. Football season isn't complete without the Pride of the South marching band.

A weary band member hangs his head after a performance. 4. Snow briefly graced the campus during the first week of November.

The Fall season in Mississippi has to be experienced to be appreciated. Nowhere else is the coming of Fall more apparent than at Ole Miss. Here leaves in the Grove go from green to yellow to orange to brown. The weather changes from hot and humid to briskly cold. The overall enthusiasm of the students rises as the season progresses. New students get into the swing of things, returning students appreciate having been away and then coming back. Fall season brings the sound of the Ole Miss band practicing in the afternoon, the beginning of football season, elections, decisions and the start of another memorable year.

Crowd participation and enthusiasm is always important.

Coming to college means experiencing new things and new people. As each one goes through their years here at Ole Miss they will accumulate memories and experiences that will last forever. Some experiences are learning ones, some make an impact on a person's future judgements, some are painful, and others are just unforgettable.

But, each experience is what you make it. Often times, as we all will learn, things don't turn out the way they were planned. But, growing up means learning to adjust, working things out with others, trying to understand that things happen, rather than concentrating so hard on why things happened.

Homecoming 91'

Spirits were high during Homecoming week, even though the rain and the loss to Vanderbilt attempted to damper the weekend. The Rebel team fought a gallant battle, while students and alumni cheered throughout Vaught-Hemingway stadium.

Each year Homecoming brings to campus a variety of age groups who all share in the love and traditional pride that make Ole Miss a special place to come home to. With school-age children tossing miniature footballs in the Grove, to the alumni band playing, to the crowning of the homecoming queen, Ole Miss homecoming allows everyone to experience something to remember.

With the Student Programming board promoting events throughout the week, homecoming week offered events to cover almost everyone's interests.

Monday — volleyball in the grove and spades tournament in the Union.

Tuesday — acoustical guitarist David Kincaid at lunch on the Union plaza and a nine-hole shotgun golf tournament at the University golf course.

Wednesday — Ole Miss dunkin' booth and "Casino Night."

Thursday — David Kincaid at lunch on the Union plaza and Homecoming Parade through Oxford.

Renovations

With the addition of new parking lots on sorority row and in front of the Ole Miss union, the parking situation eased up a little bit. The construction of the lots came after years of heated debate over the necessity of having them constructed. Nevertheless, the lots have now paved the way for many sorority girls to park close to their houses at night, eliminating the need for them to walk alone in the dark. The foundation was set this year for the Ole Miss Natural Products center, which will be located between Faser and Coulter Hall. The center will significantly expand pharmaceutical research.

The $3-million Barnard Observatory was completed early in the Fall of 1991. The observatory will house the Southern Studies program.

On the heels of complaints about the disintegration of many university structures, buildings such as Old Chemistry, Conner Hall and several older dormitory structures got much needed facelifts.

Miss Mississippi

Fourth Runner — Up to Miss America

Once again Mississippi was honored with having had a Miss America contestant representing our state, do so well in the national pageant. Mary Allison Hurdle, who went to the state pageant as Miss Desoto county, walked away from the Miss America pageant with a lifetime of memories and the honor of having been fourth runner up to the crown.

Prior to the Miss America pageant, Missy held the titles of Miss Magnolia 1989, and Miss University 1990. She was a double preliminary winner in swimsuit and talent at the Miss Mississippi pageant for the years 1989 — 90'.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Hurdle, Missy used her eleven years of extensive voice training for her vocal performance in Miss America. At Ole Miss, she sang in the University Concert Singers and the Madrigal Choir. She has also been a featured singer in the opera, "The Consul." Missy, who graduated from the University of Mississippi with a Bachelor of Accountancy Degree, is currently pursuing a Masters in that field. She hopes to seek a career in public accounting after graduation, but will continue to advance her singing career.

Just thirty minutes before the polls closed on Thursday, November 21, 1991, the entire Miss Ole Miss, Colonel Rebel and favorites race was called off. After weeks of campaigning, candidates were told that problems with the student identification card readers, made the election null and void, and due to the fact that it was so close to Christmas vacation, elections could not be held again until Tuesday, January 28, 1992.

Elections commissioner Cary Lee and Attorney General Cory Wilson made the decision and also decided to nullify the primary election which had taken place on Tuesday, November 19, and which had produced a field of five male and five female favorites. The entire election and campaigning process was put on hold until the new year.

Judging by the outcome of the final election held on Thursday, January 30, it seemed that students had already made their choices for the election. The original favorites were once again chosen and the front-runners, Marci Matthews for Miss Ole Miss and Josh Fletcher for Col. Rebel, handily defeated their opponents Ruth Echols and Mike Malouf.

Country Music is a Hit

Randy Travis and Alan Jackson drive straight to the heart of country music fans in Oxford.

It was a concert that came into town with little warning. Promoted by an outside promoter, the Randy Travis — Alan Jackson concert went unannounced until shortly before tickets went on sale both in Oxford and through the central ticket office. Reminiscent of the REM concert in 1987, students slept under the ticket counter in the Union to be first in line for tickets. Only allowing each student to purchase eight tickets, the central ticket office quickly sold thousands of tickets to waiting fans.

On concert night everything from babies, to toddlers, to young teenagers, to students, to parents, to elderly packed Tad-Smith coliseum for a heart warming taste of their favorite music.

Talk Radio

Begun in October 1990, U-92's often controversial talk radio show appropriately titled, "Talk Radio," has taken off as one of the most talked about and listened to programs regularly broadcast by U-92. Hosted by veteran DJ Travis Bedwell the show was inspired by the Oliver Stone hit movie of the same name.

"I was driving back to school after Christmas break and I had seen that movie," explained Bedwell, "and I thought it was a good idea for a show that we could run and produce here. We wanted to do a show that would serve the community and at the same time entertain."

After 10 months of planning, the show began on a Tuesday night in October, in the 10pm to midnight time slot. Bedwell, who has always been the sole host of the show, was nervous that no one would call in.

"That first show, I was so nervous that we wouldn't last an hour," he said. "But it went past midnight."

When the show first began callers were put directly on the air. This created problems such as people using profanity.

When money became available U-92 was able to purchase a more extensive delay system which allows for calls to be monitored. Bedwell says this is in no way an attempt to edit or to censor what is said on "Talk Radio."

"The show is about allowing people to voice their opinions," he said. "It is not a news show, it is an opinion show and I think the show allows people to think about things more. Any time people think more about something it makes it better." Bedwell said the most popular topic over the last two years has been race relations. He explained that this has covered everything from the flag, to enrollment, to the types of organizations on campus.

He said there is not a typical caller to the show, that all ages and all types of people call in. He said his most memorable call wasn't from a student at all.

"A lady called in early on during the Persian Gulf crisis. She had two teenage sons and expressed very seriously her fears about how long the war would last and what affects it would have on everyone," Bedwell remembers. "Her call was so moving that when we finished talking there wasn't a dry eye in the studio."

The show was moved to Sunday nights this year and was given an earlier time period, from 8 to 10 p.m. Bedwell, who is a junior broadcast journalism major, plans to continue doing the show until he graduates.

Theatre Season — Theatre Season — Theatre Season

The 1991-92' theatre season at Ole Miss was described as "a season of classics."

"Last year most of the University Theatre plays were very contemporary," said Department chairman James Shollenberger. "This season, we're balancing that with four classic pieces. We will be adding some modern technological touches to some of the productions, however, with special effects and lighting."

The season opened on October 24-25 with "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder. An adaptation of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," with carolling and dancing, was performed on November 21-26. Luigi Pirandello's "Six Characters in Search of an Author" was selected for performances in Bryant Hall's Studio Theatre. Rounding out the season was "A Midsummer Night's Dream," by William Shakespeare.

In addition to the above productions The Mississippi Dance company featured students and professionals performing everything from modern dance to jazz to ballet. Artistic Director Jennifer Mizenko also choreographed an original piece called "Generations" which featured dancers from age 10 to 65.

Showstoppers brought music and dance to the stage on March 26-27. The spring version included lavish set and costumes.

Although not part of the theatre season, there were three other productions that appealed to theatre lovers. "Educating Rita," by Willie Russell was presented Sept. 26 — 28. The second production, "Butter Beans," was written by Mississippian Dinah Leavitt. The third production dealt with a serious issue — life. "South Road Down," by Carry Lee dealt with whether length or quality of life was more important.

1. Anthony Herrera, left, discusses his touring production of "Smoke and Mirrors" with Bert Foregger, center, assistant professor and technical director of theatre art at Ole Miss, and Dr. Larry Kadlec, director of design and theatre technology. Vacations

Getting away to the slopes or the beach during breaks.

Doing it up right during spring break and summer is the typical Ole Miss student. Some of the most popular spots to hit include Aspen, Winterpark and Breckenridge, Colorado. Going on an organized trip to another country is also very popular. The school offers several trips that include a short stint at another university for credit. Other trips include those organized by outside promoters and include such places as the Bahamas and Mexico. Sarah Jernigan described her senior ski trip with her sorority sisters and other friends to Steamboat Springs, Colorado over last Christmas as "the best time I've ever had."

MEAS

It happened almost overnight... the news that measles would soon be descending on the Ole Miss campus came the second week in February and sent students scrambling for their medical records. The State Board of Health decreed that all students who could not prove that they had received two or more shots after their first birthday had to be vaccinated against the disease. It began on Wednesday, February 12, with two confirmed cases of measles having been reported and more expected. Mass vaccinations started at the coliseum and in the Union. More than 8,000 students received shots over the next two weeks as more than five new cases were reported. Most students didn't mind getting the shot. "Going ahead with the shot was easier than finding out if I had gotten two shots when I was a year old," said law school student George Abdo. "I felt a little sick after my shot," said David White of Oxford. "I was walking back from getting the shot and I had to lie down outside the Union because I felt faint. All these girls were coming up to me because they thought I had fainted." Those students who refused new vaccinations were not permitted to attend classes after February 14.

Barhopping — 18 to enter, 21 to drink? Good bars, great bands, dumb closing times.

For its size and location, you really can't complain when it comes to characterizing the bands and other entertainment that come to Oxford and the Oxford area. Spawned probably by the avid following of alternative music in Oxford, the Fall and Spring seasons brought out Toad the Wet Sprocket, Dryvin' and Cryin', Allgood Music Company, Mundahs, Widespread, Beanland and many others. With Lafayette's leading the way doing live broadcasts from its location, even the students who had to stay home to study could enjoy live performance by bands that come around only once a year.

This year two bars opened its doors to 18-year-olds. The advertisements read 18 to enter, 21 to drink. Of course not being 21 has never stopped students before, and inviting 18-year-olds in just gave the police something else to do. Rather than playing checkers in their cars waiting to arrest someone else for DUI, they could now come in and see if it really was 21 to drink.

Still being in the stone-age Oxford has yet to give in and keep the bars open later. Late-night food vendors are probably happy about that though. If the bars didn't close until 3, they would have to wait until 3:01 to begin selling burritos and chicken to slobbering drunks.

One thing about that chicken though — it could get you arrested. OPD knows that nobody eats that chicken without having had consuming alcohol first. Have you ever seen students fighting for that chicken around 7 p.m.?

Where you live

A Resident Advisor's Perspective

By Regan Stribling

Being an R.A. here at Ole Miss is definitely a unique experience and an enjoyable one....if you life being awakened at three or four in the morning several times a week to let inebriated residents into their rooms, walking around with a geeky clipboard and a beeper one night a week, being in early on football weekends, checking out equipment to students who think that they're royalty, giving directions to almost anywhere in the southern United States, acting as campus information and being asked to give a phone number with merely the first name or floor number, and answering a thousand questions like, "How do I drop-add" or "When do we pay fees?" Of course, there is always the thrilling experience of evacuating the building at some strange hour for the third or fourth weekly false fire alarm.

R.A. life is an enriching experience that will both bring you closer to people and make you want to kill them. However, if you are lucky, the R.A. experience includes road trips, late night swimming in Clear Creek, R.A. parties in the lobby after hours, and a lot of Domino's pizza. The lucky R.A. also enjoys having nightly rap sessions with his or her residents, watching movies with them, and of course sharing in their heartaches and their happiness.

Any veteran R.A. can tell you lots of interesting stories like, for instance, the morning someone was found asleep by the elevator, or the resident who went psycho on her roommate, or the girl who wanted to sleep in the lobby because the people she came to see weren't here. Then there are your average, everyday emergencies like the monster roach in the shower; the room that had its electricity go out while the residents were getting ready for a football game; the mysterious thing in the Coke machine that always takes your money; the resident whose roommate locked her out while she was in the shower; the drawer that always gets stuck; or the name tag on a girl's door that has her first name, when she actually goes by her middle name.

The R.A. experience is the spice of life. It allows you to bond with everyone from other R.A.'s, to residents, to the people who come here on football weekends whose beer you pour out. Sometimes you want to scream and sometimes you want to cry, but there is NEVER a dull moment.

Nominal Season Serves to Humble Rebs

After a phenomenal finish last year, the 1991 Ole Miss Rebel team came out with a bang, but were never able to garner enough momentum to carry over to a successful season.

Plagued by problems brought on by injuries and loss of players, the Rebels went on to finish the season with a 5-6 record and a 1-6 finish in the SEC. A very dissappointing season for a team that peaked high in all the college polls last year and secured a season record that took them all the way to the Gator Bowl. The Rebels began the season with a successful bout with season opener Tulane. The Rebs went on to beat Memphis State, who were unable to put any points on the board. The Rebs fell during their first SEC match against the then 15th ranked Auburn.

Cracking the top twenty-five with their first conference victory over the Kentucky Wildcats, there seemed to be renewed optimism in the lagging Rebel team. Coach Brewer said post-game Kentucky that he felt that his Rebels had a chance to crack the top twenty.

However, the October 5 victory over the Cats did not begin the Rebels winning streak but rather began their slide to a five-game losing streak that sealed their place at almost the bottom of the SEC.

vs. Georgia

Going into the game ranked 23rd in the nation the Rebel team had chosen a beautiful day to down the 22nd ranked Georgia bulldogs. Thanks to the efforts of Georgia players Larry Ware and Eric Zeier their efforts were thwarted. Matching the Dawgs throughout the first half, the Rebels stood on even ground at half-time with a score of 17-17. Georgia coach Ray Goff used the half-time break to instruct his team on how to slash through the Rebel defense. The Dawgs came back strong to score three more times in the second half. With an additional field goal by Georgia kicker Kanon Parker, the Dawgs finished off the Rebs 37-17.

Egg Bowl

Rebels Give Up Title to Sherrill's Dawgs

The game was the hottest topic around. It was to be the showdown to end all showdowns. The much hyped match-up between the Mississippi State Bulldogs and the Ole Miss Rebels ended in disappointment as Jackie Sherrill's statement that "he would never lose to the Rebels" came very true.

Playing at Scott Field in Starkville for the first time since 1971, in front of a crowd of 41,000, the Mississippi State bulldogs put the finishing touches on the five-game losing streak that would end the Rebel season. After a season plagued with loss of players and mistakes the Rebels dropped to the Dawgs 9-24.

It was to have been an even match-up between the two teams. With both teams having played marginal seasons, Ole Miss was expected to match the dawgs in performance. Going into the match-up with a 51-30-6 record, Brewer was 7-1 against State.

The Bulldogs however had an extra key in their pocket. Having been invited to the play in the Liberty Bowl just days before the Ole Miss — State game, most fans thought the invitation was going to be extended to the winner of the Egg Bowl. It was the first time in a decade that State had received a bowl bid, and having taken away the bid from the Rebels, this added insult to injury.

Cheerleaders!

Cheerleaders Rank No. 2 In the Nation

The Ole Miss cheerleaders took their squad to a number 2 finish in the country during competition in San Antonio, Texas last spring. Competing against 16 other college co-ed squads the Rebels secured a top finish in division 1A competition.

To qualify for the event the squad sent in a tape which showed them cheering, doing sideline cheers, leading the fight song, and showed crowd participation. The tape qualified them for competition in San Antonio, where they competed against five other SEC schools.

"It was the best finish that Ole Miss has ever had," said team member Sean Gallagher. "It was the first time in competition in a long time and we worked hard."

This spring the squad began gearing up for this year's competition. "We've added more difficult stunts and we are working on our tumbling," Gallagher explained.

The event is sponsored by Nike, Pepsi and Southwest Airlines. It is carried and broadcast 12 times a year on ESPN.

Women Take Team To The Top

Ole Miss women's basketball coach Van Chancellor may have summed up the Lady Rebels 1992 season best.

"They never cease to amaze me in any game of any nature," Chancellor said.

Despite being picked to finish seventh in preseason polls in the SEC, the Rebels rose to a ranking in the top five of the country. Clara Jackson, a sophomore from Tylertown, said togetherness was the key for the team.

"We play well together and when everyone relies on each other," Jackson said. "We perform best, when we work together on all our plays."

The Lady Rebels relied on their five seniors for leadership throughout the season. One of those seniors Jackie Martin, from Vicksburg, returned from knee surgery to play a pivotal role all year. In a career with several highlights, the four year letterman may have hit one of the biggest shots in Ole Miss basketball history on January 18 against Tennessee.

The game matched two teams ranked in the top twenty in the nation here at the Ole Miss coliseum. After battling for 40 minutes these two teams went into overtime. With one second left in the extra period Martin hit a jump shot in the lane to give Ole Miss a 80-78 win.

"I saw the middle of the floor open up and I tried to spin and take the ball to the basket," Martin said. "It seemed like the ball just hung on the rim forever before it finally fell. It felt so good when the shot went in. I just started jumping up and down. I didn't even hear the buzzer go off."

A crowd of 4,264, the second-largest crowd ever to see a Lady Rebel game, went wild with approval as their team had just defeated the No. 2 team in the country.

Fittingly, another senior Charlotte Banks, from Gulfport, hit two free throws to tie an earlier game with Georgia. Banks had several big games for the Rebels, but this one 20 point performance against the 21st ranked Georgia team, helped the Rebels shut out the Dawgs 88-59.

"The thing to remember is this: Ole Miss is winning because we've got the players," Chancellor said. "The coach is kind of riding in the canoe and watching."

Three of the other seniors who helped paddle the Rebel canoe were Kim Gilchrist, Gail Evans and Renee Chancellor.

Gilchrist, who is from Memphis, led the nation in three-point field goal percentage. The 5'8" point guard scored a career-high 22 points to lead Ole Miss to victory over Kentucky.

Eaves and Chancellor saw limited action, but contributed throughout the season. Chancellor started all five of his seniors in one game against Oral Roberts University.

Size was a weakness for the Lady Rebels. Chancellor talked again, and again about how small his team was. The lack of size put a big load on the shoulders of Kristen Goehring. The junior from Jackson, TN, responded with flying colors. Goehring and Jackson helped keep Ole Miss in games with bigger competition all year.

Besides her on-court numbers Goehring put up some impressive off-the-court numbers as well. Goehring earned a 3.68 g.p.a. and was named a Gillette Scholar Athlete.

Other key contributors included Kacy Williams and Martia McWhorter. Williams scored some key points for Ole Miss in the first half of the Tennessee game to give the Rebels a chance to win. McWhorter provided much needed depth at the center/forward positions until suffering a season ending knee injury in the Alabama game. While their work often went unnoticed the Lady Rebels coaching staff worked hard all year. Steve Curtis, Peggie Gillom served as full time assistants, while Michelle Anderson was the part-time assistant.

The head man though was Chancellor.

"He (Chancellor) gives a lot of support to keep us working together as a team," Jackson said.

The Lady Rebel basketball team had a long and impressive history. Ole Miss has appeared in all 11 NCAA Women's tournaments. National rankings and SEC victories have become commonplace, but 1992 may be remembered as one of the best year's ever. — Todd Vinyard.

In his 14th season at Ole Miss, Lady Rebel head coach Van Chancellor has compiled a very impressive record. He boasts a 324-103 record and has never posted a losing season. He had 20 consecutive seasons with 20 or more wins and has led his team to all ten NCAA tournaments. He has twice been named SEC coach of the year.

Season Shows Improvement for Men

With a disastrous season behind him, four junior college players on the way and one fast gun cocked and ready, Ole Miss head coach Ed Murphy began the 1991-1992 season hoping for miracles and counting on improvement.

Miracles he did not get. Improvement he did. Murphy's 1991-1992 squad came off a disastrous 1991 campaign, which saw the Rebels win only three SEC games. Needing immediate help to bolster his ailing program, Murphy signed four junior college transfers, guards Kevin Watkins and Don Jenkins, and forward Dillard Quick and Kelvin Scales, all of which saw lots of action.

Murphy's top gun, hot shooting forward Joe Harvell of Little Rock, Ark., was expected to be the Rebel's leader and fulfilled that role from the beginning, subsequently leading the SEC in scoring with an average of more than 25 points per game.

Murphy shuffled the rest of his starting lineup for most of the year, although true freshman point guard Cedric Brim of Mooreville emerged as the Rebel "quarterback" of the future.

"I get the feeling when I give the ball to Cedric Brim," Murphy said, "that I'm not going to be getting it back for four years."

Ole Miss suffered serious injuries in the frontcourt as sophomore center Keith Peel broke his foot early in the year and was out for the rest of the season. Backup inside man Quick suffered a broken wrist at the beginning of the conference season, leaving the Rebels susceptible to the giant forces of the league, namely LSU center Shaquille O'Neal, who had 52 point in his two meetings with the Rebels.

Ole Miss opened its season winning three of four over Jackson State, Prairie View and McNeese State, while losing to Southwestern Louisiana in the Louisiana Classics Tipoff Tournament.

The Rebels subsequently defeated Alcorn State, James Madison, Stetson, Oral Roberts and Southeastern Louisiana to give them a 9-4 record heading into conference play.

MSU defeated Ole Miss 84-72 to begin the SEC season, followed by double-figure losses to Auburn and nationally-ranked Arkansas. Murphy, amid rumors of his possible firing at the end of the season, faced a difficult situation heading into Tuscaloosa, Ala., to take on Wimp Sanderson's Crimson Tide.

But led by an unconscious Joe Harvell, who had 32 points, the Rebels erased a five-point halftime drop to shock Alabama 78-77 and breathe new life into the Rebel program.

With his 32 points, Harvell scored 30 points or more for the fifth consecutive game and firmly established himself as the league's premier scorer. The league's leader was not LSU's O'Neal, Kentucky's Jamal Mashburn, nor Georgia's Litterial Green. It was Ole Miss' Joe Harvell.

Ole Miss then lost to LSU at home 83-73, Kentucky on the road 96-78, before winning two in a row at home against Vanderbilt and South Carolina, to boost their record to 10-9 overall and 3-5 in SEC. The three conference wins matched the Rebels total for all of 1991, and helped to boost confidence among the players.

The Rebels then lost three straight again to Georgia, Florida and Tennessee before once again reviving itself from near oblivion with a 86-78 win over MSU before 7,000 fans in Tad Smith. Harvell was once again instrumental in the Rebel's victory, scoring a career-high 35 points and avenging MSU's earlier victory.

Ed Murphy's 1992 campaign was one of an ailing team with many problems in matching up with SEC competition, but one which showed character. It seemed that just when fans and the media had given up on Murphy and the Rebels they countered with a big win to keep hopes alive. The 1992 season wasn't pretty, and it wasn't successful, but it was an improvement over 1991. — Kevin Cavender

Baseball

It was the year that the Ole Miss Rebel baseball team looked to break away from its ten year tradition of not qualifying for the Southeastern Conference baseball tournament. Before the conference expanded to twelve teams only the top six teams in the league were given bids to the tournament. Ole Miss head coach Don Kessinger, who had the best first year record for Ole Miss at 31-24, looked to an experienced club to continue rebuilding his alma maters failing baseball program.

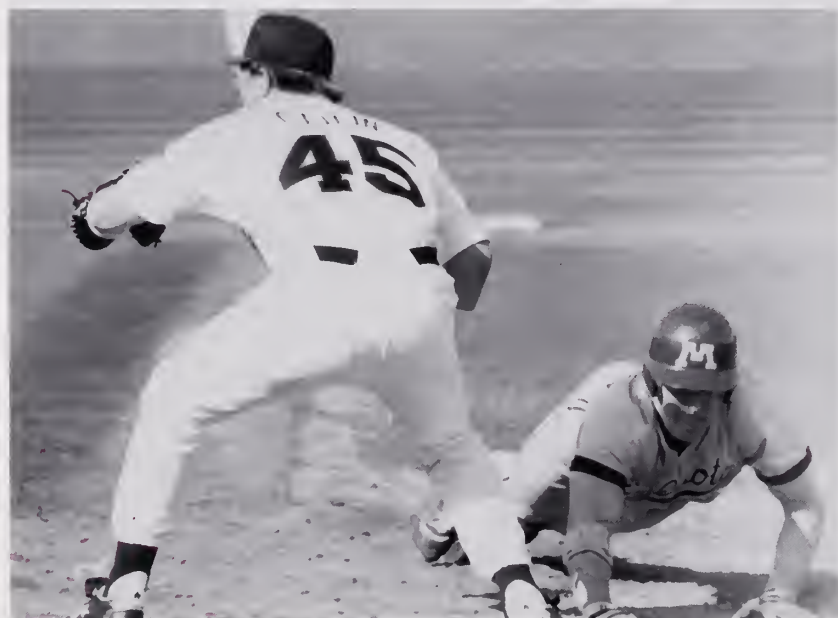

The hard work appeared to be paying off at the midway point in the season as the Rebels compiled a record of 16-6 heading into conference play. Included in those wins was a road trip to Texas in which the Rebels won four games while losing one against Oklahoma, Rice and Houston.

Two key players, Kevin Kessinger and Kenny Carlyle, stood out during the season. Kessinger made an assault at almost every Rebel career offensive in the book, while Carlyle anchored a young staff of pitchers.

Two Rebels which definitely made their presence felt at the plate, were outfielders Kary Bridges and third baseman Chris Snopek. Bridges broke the Ole Miss record for longest hitting streak with a streak of 21 games. Snopek blazed through the first 22 games of the year batting .506, with 11 doubles, seven home runs and 30 RBI.

The Rebels starting lineup for most of the year was: Brian Silvia, catcher, Guy Gatlin, first base; Rob Boyd, second base; Keith Johns, shortstop; Chris Snopek, third base; Nate Riddley, left field; Kevin Kessinger, centerfield and Kary Bridges in the right field.

Tennis

The Ole Miss tennis teams have been garnering quite a bit of attention over the Fall 1991 and Spring 1992 seasons. With players on both teams having achieved national rankings and the teams themselves being placed on ranking lists, both programs are thriving.

This year several standouts included top players from the men's team. In the SEC tournament held in early February Mohamed Ridaoui was listed as the No. 1 player in the conference. The senior from Casablanca, Morocco gained national recognition during the Fall season by capturing the National Clay Court title. He was ranked No. 3 in the nation by ITCA. Another team that played well in the tournament was the No. 4 seeded duo of Mike Knowles and Ivan Trevino.

In addition to Ridaoui victory in the Clay Court, another women's team standout Paloma Collantes tucked yet another title under her belt.

Ranked consistently in the top ten in the nation Collantes captured the All-American Tennis Championships in Pacific Palisades, California during the Fall season. It gave Ole Miss the first Grand Slam singles title in the history of the women's tennis program.

Golf

The Ole Miss golf teams were very well-received during action in Fall season play. Both teams were able to leave their marks during tournament action around the United States.

In action during late October, the women's team took top honors in the Tech/Vanderbilt Women's Golf Classic held at the Ironwood Golf Course in Cookeville, TN.

The Lady Rebs finished with a two-day, 36-hole total of 618, which was 29 strokes ahead of the second place finisher, Alabama-Birmingham. Ole Miss was led in that tournament by seasoned player, senior Chris Darci who shot a total 151 to finish in first place.

In men's Fall season action, freshman Brian Rowell led the Ole Miss team during tournament play in the Dixie Inter-collegiate invitational.

Rowell fired a two-round total of 141 during the first two days of play. Others making strong plays during that weekend were Ben Lane, John Pinel, William Power and Justin Hacker.

Track & Field

UM Boasts Outstanding Track Talent

In the past several years more and more notice is being given to the Ole Miss track and cross-country teams. With members of both teams garnering national awards and attention, Ole Miss is boasting about the much improved program.

In 1992 Spring season action, the team opened up competition by breaking five school records at the Sluki Invitational held January 19, at Southern Illinois University. They finished fourth at that meet.

Rebel record breakers included senior Alvin Haynes and junior Pablo Sierra. Haynes finished first in the triple jump and Sierra finished first in the 3000m. Other top Rebel standouts included Terrance Manogin, Patrick

Davis, James Wilson and Bo Boatner.

Lady Rebels saw record-breaking action by Darla Gatlin, Sharon Stevens, Teri Martin, and Stacy Hudson.

The Rebels have enjoyed a great season and are looking forward to continuing the expansion and improvement highlighted by this year's push forward.

Volleyball

Spikers Have Comendable Season

The Ole Miss Lady Rebels finished their 1991 volleyball season last Fall by losing to the 5th ranked Florida team during second round action in the South Eastern Conference Volleyball Championships. It had been a season full of ups and downs for the team that finished 13-18 for the season.

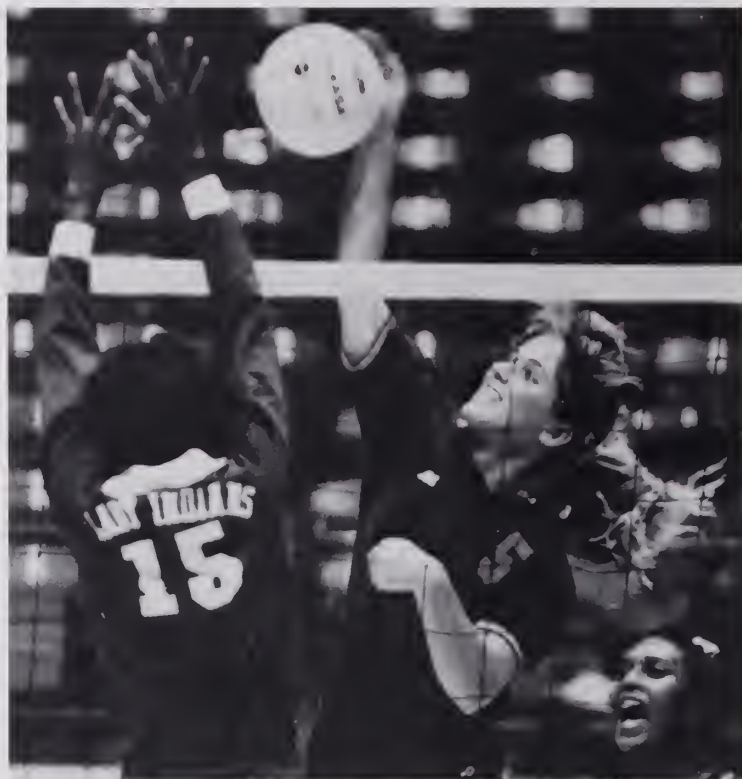

As late as November, heading into the end of the season, the Rebs had three players who were statistical leaders in the SEC. Senior Kristi Wilkinson and senior MeShun Thomas were third and fifth respectively in digs the first of November. Sophomore Amy Kerbow was in the tenth spot with assists and junior Kate Ditolla was seventh with blocks.

The improved team played well against such area challengers as Mississippi State. Coach John Blair said the much improved Bulldog team was probably the best they have been in the last ten years when they were taken by the Lady Rebs in a three-game sweep.

Intramurals

The intramural program at Ole Miss gives students from all areas of campus the chance to interact through sporting events. Some of the most popular intramurals are of course, basketball and football, but the diverse program also offers competition in everything from soccer to badminton to swimming. The intramural season lasts all year, with both a Spring and Fall championship season.

Who's Who

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges is an honor conferred annually upon outstanding student leaders. Over the past 56 years, more than 1400 senior colleges have adopted this program as a part of their annual campus honors.

Selections are made by campus nominating committees and are based on decidedly above average academic standing, community service, leadership ability, and potential for continued success. Those selected for Who's Who are featured in the 58th annual edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

This coveted award exists as one of the most highly regarded and longstanding honor programs in the nation. For the students — the outstanding campus leaders of this year — national recognition by the Who's Who program marks a pinnacle of scholastic achievement.

The Who's Who program recognizes that college students are the reservoir from which our nation draws its leadership strength. For through their contributions and service to community and school, the Who's Who recipients are the young adults who enhance the positive image of American youth.

Omicron Delta Kappa is a national leadership honor society which maintains that representatives in all phases of college life should cooperate in worthwhile endeavors, and that outstanding students, faculty, and administrators should meet on a basis of mutual interest, understanding, and helpfulness. The members are chosen for their leadership contributions and scholastic achievement. Phi Kappa Phi

University of Mississippi's Highest Academic Honorary

The National Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi, founded in 1897, was originated by a group of students who felt the need to recognize scholarship in all disciplines. The society was soon transformed into a national organization by action of a committee composed of the presidents of the University of Maine, the University of Tennessee and Pennsylvania State College. The University of Mississippi chapter was chartered in May 1959, as the 77th chapter of Phi Kappa Phi. Today, there are approximately 250 chapters in 50 states, Puerto Rico and the Phillipines.

To qualify for membership, undergraduates must be seniors or second-semester juniors with high standards of scholarship and character. Graduate students and students in professional schools must have distinguished records placing them among the ablest in their classes. Faculty members must have made significant contributions to their disciplines.

Administration

Mississippi's

Governor Ray Mabus

Narrowly defeated in the November general election by Mississippi businessman, Kirk Fordice, Ray Mabus bid goodbye to the governor's mansion in Jackson, never quite realizing his campaign goal that "Mississippi would never be last again."

Mabus fell short in the election to Fordice by just three percent of the votes. Relying heavily on the strongly Democratic Delta counties to rally for his re-election, Mabus would have been the first Mississippi governor to have held back-to-back terms in office.

A 1969 graduate of Ole Miss, Mabus was a Woodrow Wilson fellow at John Hopkins University, receiving a Master degree in government. In 1976, Mabus graduated Magna Cum Laude from Harvard Law School. He and his wife, Julie, had their first child, a daughter Elisabeth Hamilton, on July 15, 1991.

Mabus will be remembered for his fight to pass the Better Education for Success Tomorrow (BEST) bill through the Mississippi legislature. If enacted the bill would have garnered revenues for education reform.

Governors

A frequent visitor of Mississippi schools, Mabus was named by Fortune magazine as one of the top ten governors for education during 1991.

Governor-Elect Kirk Fordice

Coming to power with a Republican governor for the first time in 117 years, the GOP will be represented by 57-year-old Kirk Fordice of Vicksburg. Hailing himself as "not a professional politician," Fordice stressed his understanding of the needs of the state to move away from professional politicians. "The people of Mississippi are ready for somebody who is real," Fordice said shortly before Mabus conceded the election. "They are sick to death of negative politics and politicians who assume that thier people are too dumb to know the difference." President of the Vicksburg based Fordice Construction company founded in 1948, he is also immediate past president of the Associated General Contractors, whose 32,000 member companies represent 3.5 million employees.

Having earned a degree in civil engineering and a Masters degree in industrial management from Purdue University, he is also a 20-year veteran of the U.S. Army Reserves.

He is married for 35 years to the former Pat Owens of Jackson. They have four children and five grandchildren.

Chancellor Turner

Since 1984, Chancellor Gerald Turner has been promoting the University of Mississippi throughout the state and the nation. As the 22nd Chancellor, Turner has traveled throughout the state promoting his message and sharing the value of strong universities with legislators, business executives, civic club members and alumni supporters. He and his wife Gail have been ambassadors of the University as well as for the state of Mississippi.

In the last six years under the leadership of Dr. Turner, Ole Miss's endowment fund has grown from $8 million to $38 million. This year Turner also took great strides in making himself more accessible to the student population. By starting a weekly student forum, he gives students the opportunity to come to him with ideas and problems.

The Ole Miss School of Accountancy has a unique organizational arrangement among accountancy programs in the U.S.. While most accountancy programs are departments within a business school, at Ole Miss the school is a completely separate unit and is celebrating the 13 anniversary of its establishment. A five-year program, the school awards the Bachelor of Accountancy after four years and a Masters degree after five. A doctoral program is also available. The school is fully accredited at both the Bachelors and the Masters levels. Students completing the program are well prepared for prestigious jobs with CPA firms and in the industry, government and education and for the professional certification examination.

The School of Education is dedicated to the preparation of students for effective leadership and service in school, home and community. A degree in education prepares students for jobs in many areas. For example, public schools are hiring education graduates as teachers, supervisors, coordinators, administrators and guidance counselors.

A degree in education also carries with it the responsibility of helping guide our young citizens in our society.

Graduate School

The Graduate School at Ole Miss was founded in 1927, and offers graduate degrees in more than fifty speciality areas. Courses at the graduate level were actually first offered at the university in 1870. However, a definite program of graduate study with a minimum residence requirement of one academic year was first used in 1890. The graduate school was formally organized in 1927, to coordinate and administer graduate study in research.

This year the graduate school was relocated to the Old Chemistry building.

Anchor Splash

Anchor Splash moved from poolside to lake-side this year as Delta Gamma conducted the annual games at Sardis Lake rather than the University Pool. Maybe the previous moonings, the drunken and lewd behavior, and the rowdiness constituted the move, but this year's Splash went better than ever. With all male Greek organization participating, Anchor Splash chairman Randi McClure said Delta Gamma was very pleased with the outcome of this year's splash.

"More than $2,000 was raised to benefit sight conservation aid to the blind," she explained. "We attribute the success of it all to the guys — who always have a lot of fun with it."

This was the sixth year for Delta Gamma to host Anchor Splash.

Decisions, Decisions

Rush is a big decision, one that leads to happiness and heartache.

Ole Miss rush is rumored to be the most selective and difficult rush in the South. It holds for many students the key to making friends and becoming socially involved at Ole Miss. This however, has nothing to do with actually becoming an integral part of the University.

What the Greek system at Ole Miss does have to offer however, is the beginning of a new family of support. Greek groups at Ole Miss play an important part in fund-raising and lending time and their efforts to worthwhile projects.

Ole Miss Welcomes Phi Gamma Delta Chapter

Fraternity colonizes and integrates

After just two weeks of passing out informational handouts in the Union and holding prospective membership drives around campus, Ole Miss welcomed the colonization of the new Phi Gamma Delta, or FIGI, chapter to campus.

With 53 new members, Phi Gamma Delta, is reorganizing here at Ole Miss after a notably long absence. Not since prior to the Civil War has Ole Miss had a FIGI chapter. The new pledge class includes multi-racial pledges, something that the new colony expressed intense pride in.

Tom D'Angelo was director of the redevelopment for Phi Gamma Delta and said in a DM interview that although integration was not part of the original agenda in reorganization, he felt it was a very positive step.

The pledges for the new fraternity were chosen based on the character of each person, their ideals, and their dedication to their scholarship and campus involvement. In order to be initiated into the colony each member must maintain a 2.3. grade point average.

Although the new fraternity does not have a spot on fraternity row yet, they plan to fully immerse themselves throughout the remainder of 1992, in becoming an integral part of the Ole Miss greek system.

1. Handing out information about Phi Gamma Delta in the Union, FIGI alumni and field representatives garnered enough interest in organizing a chapter here that they pledged 53 men.

ΦΜ Pledge Olympics

For the fourth year, Phi Mu sorority sponsored pledge olympics in the Fall to benefit LeBohner's Children's hospital in Memphis. Once again the olympics were a huge success.

This year was the first year for the olympiads to be co-ed. In the past the participants were all freshmen sorority pledges. This year the male fraternity pledges were invited to compete and according to olympics organizer, Ali Kendall it turned out to be more fun for everyone.

"We usually just use the guys for the judges," Kendall explained. "But this year I talked to them beforehand and they said that although they enjoyed judging, what they really wanted to do was compete."

Kendall said all pledge classes were represented in competitions such as the egg toss, whip the bubble and the 3-legged race. All the money raised was donated Le Bohner. Kendall explained that every pledge class paid a $50 entry fee, and all of that money was used for donation to the hospital.

"Phi Mu doesn't get any of that money," she said. "It all goes to help the kids at Le Bohner."

Delta Psi's Get Trashy

As awareness increases about pollution problems, campus organizations get involved in helping out.

1. The first step in cleaning up along the highway is safety. Putting up a sign that warns motorists that workers are in the medians and alongside the roads encourages them to be more aware and to decrease their speed. 2. Getting down and dirty and picking up the trash is the second step. 3. Rejoicing in a mission accomplished is the third.

For the last two years, more and more campus organization are becoming a part of the Mississippi Highway Department's Adopt-A-Highway project. This year twelve Ole Miss organizations have garnered up to 2 miles of roadway on Highway 6, between Oxford and Batesville. When an organization receives a stretch of road they obligate themselves to make sure that area is free of trash and other debris, with required organized collection at least three times a year. Each strip of road is marked with a sign declaring that section "adopted." Highway cleanup is getting more popular as organizations take a stand against pollution.

To the left are the names of the Ole Miss organizations who currently hold space on highways around Oxford.

Alpha Delta Pi

AΔΠ

Alpha Delta Pi was founded in 1851 at Wesleyan College in Macon, Georgia and is now recognized as the nation's oldest sorority. Delta Sigma chapter was established at Ole Miss in 1960. Since that time, our members have upheld the traditions behind the lion, the diamond and the colors of azure blue and white. The ADPi's pride themselves on qualities such as respecting each woman as an individual and accepting the diversity of all our members, while still standing proudly as a unified chapter. Alpha Delta Pi represents many things. We are brand new friends and life long sisters. We are Rebelettes, Ole Miss Ambassadors and U-92 reporters. We are represented in the ASB, Who's Who, and the Modeling Board. We are members of scholastic honoraries, volunteers in the community, and award winners at our national convention. But most of all, we are the finest, Alpha Delta Pi.

Alpha Kappa Alpha, the first sorority for African-American women, was founded at Harvard University on January 15, 1908. Theta Psi has continued the tradition of being "first and foremost" by becoming the first black sorority on the Ole Miss campus on May 12, 1974. Other firsts of Theta Psi include being the first and only black sorority on Sorority Row and having the first black Miss Ole Miss, Kimsey O'Neal. Theta Psi members are active in various organizations and hold many honors including Who's Who, Order of Omega, Phi Kappa Phi, Alpha Lambda Delta, ODK, Lambda Sigma, Gannett Scholars, ASB Cabinet, SPB, Panhellenic, the Lady Rebels Basketball team, and the Black Student Union. Theta Psi is committed to our motto "Service to All Mankind" and sponsors several community service projects throughout the year such as donations to the Women's Abuse Shelter, visiting our Adopt-A-Friend at NMRC and Black Dollar Day. The Alpha Psi chapter of Delta Gamma is special because it is the mother chapter. Delta Gamma was founded by three girls from Kosciusko, Mississippi, in 1873 at the Lewis School for Girls, in Oxford. Since then Delta Gamma has flourished, as it is one of the most outstanding and most respected Greek organizations on campus. Dee Gee's have fun all year round, but especially at Anchor Splash, which raises money for our philanthropy; Sight Conservation and Aid to the Blind. In addition to our many social events, Delta Gamma is well respected in many campus activities such as ASB, Modeling Board, Rebel Recruiters, M-Club, fraternity little sisters, and members in ODK, Lambda Sigma, Alpha Lambda Delta, Who's Who and Mortar Board.

The Delta Rho Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma has been a part of the Ole Miss campus since 1947. Through the years, from pledging to senior year, there have been many changes, yet continuity services. The Kappas are active on campus holding the positions of ASB Treasurer, Senior Class Vice President, two fraternity sweethearts, a Varsity cheerleader, a J.V. cheerleader, two Rebelettes, a Varsity Tennis Team member, a top ten beauty and a Pike Calendar girl. Each year we have formals, mixers, crush parties, and Arrange-A-Date. For our philanthropy projects, we raised support for a active Kappa who underwent surgery and we adopted a family for Thanksgiving. Each year the Kappas set goals for excellence and achievements for personal growth and campus involvement.

Pi Beta Phi was founded at Monmouth College on April 28, 1867, for the scholastic advancement of college women. The Mississippi Beta chapter was chartered at Ole Miss in 1962 and celebrated its thirtieth anniversary this year. Pi Phi's claim the angel and arrow as their symbols in the colors of wine and silver blue. Members of Mississippi Beta take pride in their arrow shaped house, modeled after Arrowmont. Arrowmont is one of the two national philanthropies that Pi Phi's work all year long for. Fundraisers include "King of Hearts", Stick 'em up for Arrowmont", and the national t-shirt contest. This year Pi Phi was proud to have many members involved in various campus activities. Ranging from fraternity little sisters, Rebelettes, cheerleaders, concert singers, SPB committees, ASB Senators, BACCHUS officers, and many more. In addition to having girls in the Parade of Beauties and on Pike calendar, our members were named to some of the top honoraries including Lambda Sigma, ODK, Order of Omega, Mortar Board, Phi Kappa Phi, and Who's Who. Pi Phi's are always excited about helping out other greeks with their philanthropies: participation in Phi Mu Pledge Olympics and Sigma Chi Derby Day. Favorites of all Pi Phi's are Spring Casual, Winter Formal, Grab-a-Date, and Monmouth Duo with the Kappas. Pi Phi's can always be seen on the athletic field for intramural football, soccer, All-Stars, and are always ready to defend their title of Greek Week Champs. The friendships and sisterhood will always be bound by the colors of wine and silver blue.

Kappa Alpha

Kappa Alpha Order was founded at Washington College in December 21, 1865. Later, in January 1900, Alpha Upsilon Chapter was established at the University of Mississippi. During 1991-92, the KA's of Ole Miss demonstrated their progressive attitude toward life while possessing a feeling of pride and accomplishment. The men of Kappa Alpha are involved in every aspect of life at Ole Miss claiming memberships in such honoraries and organizations as Lambda Sigma, Phi Eta Sigma, Alpha Upsilon Delta, Sigma Tau Delta, Omicron Delta Kappa and Order of Omega. KA athletics, both Varsity and Intramural, as well as its much talked about social program including Rose Ball, Hell Raising Hayseed, Christmas Party and Old South show still another facet of the versatility and excellence portrayed by this fine chapter. These accomplishments have enabled Alpha Upsilon to capture two Samuel Zenas Ammen Awards for Chapter Excellence in the past two years. Academically, socially, politically and athletically it is easy to see that the men of Kappa Alpha Order at Ole Miss aim for the ultimate and achieve it.

Kappa Sigma

KΣ

On December 10, 1869, five friends and brothers met by firelight on a cold, windswept night in Charlottesville, Virginia on the University campus to establish a bond of brotherhood that was dedicated to the goals of learning and an institution shaped by the thinking of great men.

This institution of fraternal brotherhood became Kappa Sigma. Nationally, Kappa Sigma has a tradition of producing great men. Brothers have become Presidential cabinet members, United States Senators, and Heisman trophy winners. The Delta Xi chapter of Kappa Sigma has been consistently recognized as one of the top ten chapters in the nation. We are involved in virtually every aspect of the Ole Miss campus. Athletically, Kappa Sig's are represented on several University sports teams. We have several members involved in academic honoraries such as Golden Key, Order of Omega, Phi Kappa Phi and Chancellors Leadership class. As members of several A.S.B. committees and A.S.B. senators, Kappa Sigma is well represented in student government. Socially, Kappa Sig's stand out with our annual nationally ranked South Sea Island Party, in which we turn our yard into a tropical paradise. Other parties include our annual Halloween fundraiser, Christmas Party, Winter Formal and Groundbreaking Party. The Delta Xi chapter of Kappa Sigma believes that the ideals of brotherhood which are shaped here be observed not for a day, and hour, or a college term only, but for life.

History of

Pi Kappa Alpha

Pikes have played a vital role at Ole Miss since the Gamma Iota chapter was founded on May 27, 1927.

Since that founding, the Gamma Iota chapter has produced a U.S. Senator, a Lieutenant Governor, a three-time Pulitzer Prize Winner and many other prominent men. This tradition of excellence continues today and is evident by campus involvement of Pikes in offices and honoraries such as SPB Director, Hall of Fame, Who's Who, Campus favorites, ASB Senators, Phi Kappa Phi, ODK, Order of Omega, Mortar Board, and Golden Key. Pikes are also on the Varsity Football and Tennis team.

Furthermore, Pikes frequently sponsor fundraising events to support philanthropies. The annual Pike Calendar proceeds go to the Oxford Chapter of United Way and in September a campaign for paralyzed Memphis athlete Gordon Burks netted $3000.

Phi Beta Sigma

ΦΒΣ

On January 9, 1914, at Harvard University, Washington, D.C., three college men founded a brotherhood called Phi Beta Sigma on the ideals of Brotherhood, Scholarship, and Service. Since 1975, Eta Beta Chapter has accomplished many goals and is involved in all facets of University life. Eta Beta has received most outstanding chapter at their state conference for the past three years. Phi Beta Sigma's National considers Eta Beta to be a model chapter for other chapters around the United States because of their never-ending pursuit of service to their surrounding community, brotherhood, and scholastic excellence. Each semester brings something new from the chapter house of Phi Beta Sigma's Eta Beta Chapter.

Phi Delta Theta

In 1848, six college men at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, founded a brotherhood based on friendship, sound learning and moral rectitude. Phi Delta Theta has since grown into an organization claiming approximately 200 chapters. Mississippi Alpha Chapter has played an integral part of campus life since it was founded at Ole Miss in 1877. Phi Delta Theta is actively involved in many leadership organizations and academic honoraries. Rhea Tannehill serves as ASB President, Fred Schaeffer is the IFC Vice-President, and Dave Fulcher is the President of OΔK. Phi Deltas are involved in Phi Kappa Phi, Order of Omega, Golden Key and Mortar Board. This year five Phi Deltas were named to Who's Who. In addition, Phi Deltas are involved in a variety of fund-raising projects, in particular the Magic Lamp Foundation which benefits terminally ill children.

Phi Kappa Psi

ΦΚΨ

Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity was founded at Jefferson College in 1852, and is the second oldest fraternity at Ole Miss dating back to 1857.

With members participating in the Order of Omega, Ole Miss Ambassadors and ASB Senate, Phi Psi's have contributed to many facets of campus life. Many of our members have achieved academic distinction with their memberships in Mortar Board, Chancellor's Honor Roll, Omicron Delta Kappa, Presidents Honor Roll and Phi Eta Sigma as well as other various organizations.

One of the things that Phi Psi's everywhere take pride in is our motto: "United by friendship, sustained by honor, and led by truth, we live and flourish."

This year Phi Kappa Psi has stuck by that motto by having the second largest pledge class on campus and sponsoring their Adopt-A-Highway strip and Mental Retardation Philanthropy.

Phi Kappa Tau

ΦΚΤ

Phi Kappa Tau was founded nationally in Oxford, Ohio, on March 17, 1906. Four young men founded a brotherhood based on truth, knowledge and fellowship. Ever since the founding of the Delta Gamma chapter at Ole Miss in 1969, the members have worked to establish and uphold these goals.

This year Phi Tau raised money for the third annual Charity Bowl. This money was raised for Lori Sneed, an Ole Miss student, who was paralyzed in a car accident.

Like other fraternities Phi Tau tries to find ways to help the community through projects. However members try to help groups one on one rather than just raising money.

This year was a successful year for Phi Tau and we hope to continue the success into the next year and years to follow.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded in 1856 at the University of Alabama. This year marked Mississippi Gamma's, SAE's Ole Miss chapter, 125th anniversary which was celebrated by hundreds of SAEs at an alumni banquet Homecoming weekend.

SAE takes pride in contributing to the Ole Miss and Oxford community. For example, the annual ΣΑΕ&ΚΑ bowl-a-thon and the Halloween fundraiser donated thousands of dollars to local charities. Also, SAE initiated an annual Thanksgiving drive which collected and contributed over 1000 canned goods to the Oxford pantry. Additionally, SAE instituted the "Beep-an-E" program established to provide members of the chapter with a safe ride home by having a designated driver constantly available.

SAEs also enjoy participating in campus activities. In intramural sports, both active and pledge teams excelled in football, basketball and soccer. SAEs are also extensively involved in the majority of campus committees.

These type of activities and involvement, combined with great parties and brotherhood make Sigma Alpha Epsilon the largest and strongest fraternity. The Mississippi Gamma chapter is no exception.

Sigma Chi

ΣΧ

Eta chapter of Sigma Chi received its charter in 1857, only twelve years after the founding of Ole Miss, becoming the first chapter here and the fourth chapter nationwide. Known as the Standard Bearer of the South, Eta is composed of men of different temperments, talents, ages and convictions. Sigma Chis are very involved on the Ole Miss campus and boast memberships in some of the universities highest honors including ODK, Who's Who, Order of Omega and Phi Kappa Phi. Community service involvement is also a very important aspect of Sigma Chi.

The social scene is another important aspect of Sigma Chi. Each year Sigma Chi hosts one of the greatest parties on campus — Derby Day. Derby Day involves almost the entire Ole Miss campus and provides not only a good time for all, but also raises money for different causes.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

ΣΦΕ

Sigma Phi Epsilon was founded in Richmond, Virginia in 1901, at what is now the University of Richmond. Shortly thereafter, in October of 1902, it became a national fraternity, the first step in attaining its status as the largest fraternity in the United States. Sig Eps pride themselves in maintaining an even balance between academics, campus involvement, athletics and social activities.

This fall semester revolved around such events as Bid Day, football parties, mixers, homecoming and the annual Christmas party. The spring semester is no less exciting, as initiation of pledges, the annual theme parties and fund raisers that aid worthy causes all occupy the Sig Ep calendar. Sigma Phi Epsilon possesses an admirable history of achievement and an ambitious agenda for upcoming years.

XΨ

Founded in 1841, Chi Psi fraternity was chartered at Ole Miss in 1858. Alpha Gamma is a leader in all aspects of campus life. We have members in the Ambassadors, Student Alumni Council, Campus Senate, Lambda Sigma, and other organizations and honoraries on campus. Nationally we are a pioneer in the fraternity world. Among our many firsts include the first fraternity house, first fraternity to extend from coast to coast, and one of the first fraternities to stress social interest in addition to academic endeavors. Chi Psi is involved in many social, athletic, and academic events. Planned for this year are swaps, cookouts, a fall canoe trip, Halloween party, Christmas party, the Ford Gaudin Memorial Golf Tournament, and spring formal. A proud tradition once set is now a legacy proudly upheld. This is Chi Psi at Ole Miss.

SPB

Over the years the Student Programming Board has brought to campus some of the biggest names in talent and entertainment. The 1991-92 year was no exception.

The SPB has provided the students with a chance to see Widespread Panic, the Connells, R.E.M., and the Indigo Girls. This year they brought to campus Drivin and Cryin, the BoDeans and Randy Travis. In addition to concerts, the SPB helped to sponsor reknowned columnist Lewis Grizzard, who entertained a packed house in Fulton chapel the night before the Georgia game.

The SPB is always proud to sponsor the Miss University and the Parade of Beauties pageants. Last year's Miss University Missy Hurdle went on to become Miss Mississippi and third alternate to Miss America. Parade of Beauties, held this year on Halloween night, is always a favorite with students. More than 70 girls were in this year's competition, which was narrowed down to a top 10 and a Most Beautiful.

The SPB however is more than just concerts and pageants. This year various committees under the board of directors helped to sponsor homecoming activities in the Grove and around campus. Noon entertainment in front of the Union, fun-runs, student bridge classes, the lighting of the Ole Miss Christmas tree, and various other events that involve all Ole Miss students.

Senior Class

This year's Senior Class project was the construction of a new Grove stage which would serve all areas of student life. The former bandstand was in a state of disrepair and needed to be replaced. With the help of numerous organizations on campus, the Senior Class project was a success. Through their gift to the university, the Senior Class hoped to benefit not only the students already at Ole Miss but the students of the future. It is hoped that the Senior Class Committees which follow will strive to continue the goal of long-lasting and necessary improvements to our Ole Miss.

Ole Miss Yearbook

In its ninety-eighth year of production, the Ole Miss yearbook, is a student-edited and produced publication. Each Ole Miss strives to present an accurate pictorial account of a year in the life of the students and faculty at the University of Mississippi.

Each year more than 6,000 copies of the book are distributed in May to all students. Funding for the book comes primarily from student activity fees, derieved each semester from students tuition payments.

A staff of twenty students was responsible for this year's yearbook. The staff was chosen from applications received during the first week of classes. A photography staff of six was also comprised at that time and was responsible for nearly all the photos used in the book.

ARMY ROTC

Army ROTC (Reserve Officers Training Corps) is a program which offers college students the opportunity to graduate as officers and serve in the US Army, the Army National Guard, or the US Army Reserve. ROTC enhances a student's education by providing unique leadership and management training, along with practical experience. It helps a student develop many of the qualities basic to success in the Army or in a civilian career.

The Army ROTC program was activated at the University of Mississippi as an infantry unit on March 11, 1936. It was originally housed in the Peabody building, where it remained until World War II. The unit moved to its present quarter in Guyton Hall in 1961. In 1954, ROTC was made compulsory for all male students, and remained so until 1970, when it became voluntary.

To date over 1,200 cadets have received their commission at Ole Miss, of which five have attained the rank of General.

Air Force

The mission of the Air Force is to fly, fight, and win in order to preserve America's freedom. The goal of Air Force ROTC, here at Ole Miss, is to train interested young men and women to be prepared and willing to accomplish this mission.

Being an officer in the United States Air Force is not just a job or position — it is a way of life. The demanding qualifications to become an officer assure entry of well-educated specialists who meet the high academic standards required to fill various positions in our vast military organization.

Air Force ROTC at Ole Miss offers two routes to an Air Force commission. Entering students may enroll in the four-year program, and students with at least two academic years remaining in college may apply for the two-year program.

Chancellors Leadership

Chancellors Leadership Class was enacted in 1985, by present Chancellor Gerald Turner. The class is comprised of sixty freshmen men and women, chosen from various high schools. The students are chosen based on their leadership and academic accomplishments in high school, in the hopes that they will continue to develop leadership at Ole Miss.

As preparation for their roles as leaders, the students attend a weekly meeting which is frequented by state and local leaders, who speak on various aspects of leadership. The students are also introduced to campus leaders, and encouraged to become a part of campus organizations. Since its organization, Chancellors leadership has produced some of the top leaders on campus, who in turn have gone on to become leaders in the state and nation.

The Ole Miss M-Club is comprised of student athletes who have lettered in one of the major University sports. In addition to being responsible for hand-selecting the homecoming court, the group is involved in many fund-raising and charitable activities. The combining of the student athletes from various sports also serves as a social vehicle, allowing athletes from all over to gain support and respect for each other.

"You kind of wonder how many he sends out. I mean if he's sending out 100,000 he's getting a great deal. If he's sending out 2,000 he's getting screwed."

During the school year students often visit Faulkner's home, Roanoke, which is very close to campus. One unique feature of his estate is that many of the same structures, such as the barns shown here, have been preserved since the time of Faulkner. Photo by Natalie Pharr.

"No, because most of the people that are in there are underage and they shouldn't be in there."

"Yes, definitely. I'm from Memphis and when I came down here, I mean, they were closing at 11:30. I don't think that's fair, I just think it's more fun when you can have the bars open later."

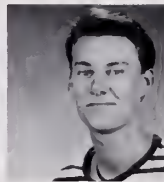

"Yes, most definitely. Things don't get started until 10 and then you have to go home. You end up going to a late night and hanging out until 4 in the morning."

"I could care less about that."

"I absolutely think the bars should be open later. I mean you are just getting started at 10. Last call at 12:30- it is such a rip-off to have a $4 or $5 cover and have the last call 2 hours later."

"I think they're pretty pointless. You can't really enforce them that well. Nobody really cares about them anyway."

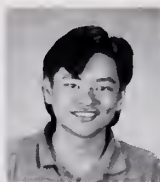

"I hate them. I ride on the sidewalks and get a $58 ticket for it, that's ridiculous! The pedestrians need to stay out of my way."

"I think they are pretty dumb. There need to be paths if they are planning on enforcing those laws."

"I think it's silly. It (bicycling) is a major form of transportation and many commuters need bikes to get to class."

"I think there should be bicycle laws to keep people safe."

"Wonderful- I liked Fordice and I really wanted a change."

"I though Mabus was gonna win but I guess you have to take the good with the bad."

"It's awesome. It's about time. That's about all I have to say."

"I think it's incredible. The Democrats haven't done anything for Mississippi, and I'm hoping the Republicans turn this state around."

"I'm not from the state. I think it's a good idea. Democrats have been in power for a long time. It's about time for a change here."

"No, there are more commuters out there than parking, and building a 200 space lot is not going to help that much."

"No, there still won't be enough commuter parking."

"I hope so. The University should have done something before now though."

"Yes, sorority parking and girls dorm will be helped out alot."

"I'm sure the University will find some way to issue more traffic tickets to accompany the new spaces so they can cover their butt."

"It's not a real big problem, but I think it goes unreported. I think people are scared and embarrassed."

"It's not a problem because it is not reported enough. Mainly I think it is a boyfriend-girlfriend thing and they don't know what to do about it."

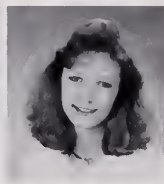

"I think awareness about date rape is a problem. I think people should be more aware of what it is and how to prevent it."

"Personally I don't know, but I've heard it is a problem here. I read a study they did passing out surveys and it seems to be a problem."

"If it is a problem then it is not publicized. I think people are just scared."

"I think one issue — the segregation of clubs and unions — I think that issue had merit."

"Doesn't it have something to do with waving a Rebel flag?"

"I kinda do. His stance on Turner is his own opinion, but some of the other issues need discussion."

"I am a bit confused about what he is trying to do. I think he is really confused too."

"Lack of funding for education is causing problems everywhere. Money is going to other places and not into education. I think it is the downfall of the US."

"Not so much the education, but what the teachers can do to educate. It cuts down on what can be used to educate with."

"I think lack of funding is scaring teachers away. I think the facilities here need some improvement."

"Definitely, we need more funding. These people need to get on the ball."

"Yes, we are losing a lot of faculty and staff and we can't offer the programs that we need to. One way to raise money would be to look at other ways of raising money other than state funding."

"I think he has done an incredible job with international relations. I think there is still room for improvement with domestic relations."

No comment on Bush, but knows there are big problems in the world. "Pollution is a big problem. Everybody throwing trash on the ground instead of recycling."

"Hell no. I just don't like what he has done for domestic politics. He's not helping the middle man. The poor are just getting poorer."

"Economically he's not doing a good job right now. He's dropping down in the polls because of it."

"He seems to have a lot of support, but I don't think he has been a very strong leader."

Q.

How do you feel about the 25% tuition increase that may take place as early as 1993?

Heather Wood
Soph. Lib. Arts
Jackson, MS

"I know people don't like it but to keep people here and to keep the doors open, we have to have it."

Mark Nelson
Finance Soph.
Union, MS

"If you look at it from the University standpoint, being as underfunded as it is, it is a pretty good step to make the University a better educational facility."

Suzanne Malone
Jr. Int. Econ.
Huntsville, ALA

"Actually considering other schools, this is still a bargain for the price. I think the increase should be made gradually, maybe in increments."

Lyndee Eldred
Fresh. Psy.
Southaven, MS

"Well, I think we need it. It is not that expensive here and we do need more money."

Shannon Northcut
Jr. Journalism
West Memphis, Ark.

"I feel like we are already paying enough as it is. I know we need more money but maybe it should come from somewhere else. Maybe from the Christmas card fund."

In commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the bombing of Pearl Harbor in 1941, this 98th addition of the Ole Miss is hereby dedicated to the brave men and women who lost their lives during this courageous struggle. Lifted from the pages of the 1947 Ole Miss and also from the May 11, 1945, edition of the Daily Mississippian, the following names are of Ole Miss students who lost their lives during the war or were declared missing in action or prisoners of war.

As a student now one can only imagine how deeply affected the student body of Ole Miss was during the troubled first years of 1940, during the war. It is with humble remembrance that we once again honor these heroic individuals.

Extra Special Thanks and Important Information

Coming to Mississippi from Holland was a long way for you Arne. You've really made the most of your experience here. Running and finishing in good time the New York City marathon is a feat in itself. I'm glad you chose to come to Mississippi because I hope it has taught you a little about the South. Thanks for all the wonderful pictures. You've been the best.

I don't think this next summer is going to be quite as exciting as the last one, Dear. I could have killed you this night. I couldn't have made it without your daily visits to my office. With everyone I know gone this semester, I'm glad you were still here with me.

I'll really miss the tradition above. Thanks to everyone pictured. John, Mom, Kelly, Dad and George. From day one we have all been together and it really seems like four years ago was just yesterday. We've always said we would all still be together for many more homecomings to come. Let's try and keep it together. Thanks for all your support. It came in many forms and was much appreciated.

I guess we really didn't drink that much that afternoon at the Gin. (not that at that point I didn't want to relieve some stress and do so)! Many, many thanks go out to you for helping me finish the book. I wish you all the luck in the world next year trying to produce yet another Ole Miss. You'll maybe even start sympathizing with Traci when she pitches a fit because things don't get done, now you'll understand. You were without a doubt the best person that could have taken over as business manager. You took so much of the pressure off me and you were mean when I couldn't be. (imagine that).

Colophon

The 1992 Ole Miss is the 98th volume, published by Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas. The press run was 6,000 copies. Book specifications include 400 pages measuring 9 by 12, printed on 80lb. enamel paper. Spot color used was midnight blue No. 17, in opening; spice red No. 28 in Student Life; gold No. 80 and blue No. 17 in Features. Pop prints used were 901, 910, 911 and 912. They can be found primarily in Organizations and Student Life. The cover was designed by August Laurent. Special thanks to the Taylor artist, April Ennis-Ford of Jackson for drawing the cover and also contributing the art used for the section headings and for the cover type "Ole Miss." The cover color is Midnight Blue No. 17. Going back to a school color was proposed by the majority of the student body, so I guess we should all take credit for the final cover. The Ole Miss seal is imprinted on the cover. Other color on the cover is silver No. 81.

Revenue from the book came from the sale of pages to organizations, honoraries and Greeks. The total operating budget of the book totaled approximately $164,720. That can be broken down into $8,000 from Greeks and $13,000 from organizations and honoraries. The remainder of the money is derived from student activity fees. Each student contributes $8.00 per semester towards production of the yearbook.

All pages were designed using Taylor provided software, including the PageVision, TypeVision and IndexVision series. All pictures were taken by student photographers except Hall of Fame, Who's Who, Beauties, Favorites, and class photos, which were taken by Walt Mixon of Oxford Photo.

All photos were taken on the Ole Miss campus, with one exception of a location shot at Oxford's Downtown Grill restaurant. Special thanks to Mrs. Patty Lewis and the managerial staff of the Grill for allowing us to shoot there. The 1992 Ole Miss is a student edited publication produced annually at the University of Mississippi. The viewpoints represented in this book are those solely of the staff and in no way reflect University policy.

Editor's Closing

I can't express how glad I am that this year is drawing to a close when I speak of this yearbook. It has given me heartache, heartburn and headache. But I take great pride also in putting together once again something that I feel we all put a little into, and that is Ole Miss. I had the biggest reservations about undertaking this job once more. As I write this now our book is two weeks over deadline and may or may not come back by the time school is over. I will cross my fingers and hope that we can pull it out. If you are reading this and we didn't pull it out, I hope you forgave me back in May when you went home for the summer empty-handed.

I thought a great deal this summer when I was on vacation about what this "extra year" at Ole Miss would bring. In many ways I can say it has been the best and the worst year of my life. I think someone wanted me to stay so that I could learn all the lessons mainly about life that I learned this year.

I have experienced the greatest joys this year though self-discovery. My summer study in Europe was the most eye-opening and fulfilling experience of my life. The weeks I spent living at the house here with six of my best friends and seeing all my buddies go out into the world successfully were the best for me.

But I learned some very painful lessons also. Having this book be late is disappointing, but nothing measures up to some of the things I learned last semester about what is and what was in my life. Not having my basement support group here made things especially hard. I think of you all every day.

The first and biggest thank you in the world goes to my wonderful business manager, Todd Inman. As we all know nothing would have gotten done if you hadn't done your job and sometimes mine in trying to get this book out. Much thanks to you for revitalizing the business manager job and taking over the photography staff. You took the heat for me when I wanted to avoid it, I will never be able to thank you enough.

Thanks next to my wonderful family. Mom and Dad were as always generous with the support and love. You have supported me more this year in my off-the-wall endeavors than ever. Thanks for letting me become an adult. I love you both more than ever. Of course Claudia too. I wish you much luck in everything. You are a special person to me and I love you.

Thanks to John and Kelly. John you are always near to me, no matter how far away you really are. I can hear your voice urging me on when I want to quit and I can feel your pride in me when I reach my goals. You always have enough strength for the both of us. Kelly — I am so glad you were still here this semester. Thanks for helping me out with the book and being the best roomie ever.

Thanks also to Julie Swayze, Laurie Tharpe and Becky Neal for urging me to go out when I should be doing the yearbook and coming in to the Grill to let me wait on yall while yall had a good time. Thanks to Craig Dearman for stopping in and giving me a hard time. I can seriously say that I will miss you dearly next year.

I really appreciate the efforts of Walt Mixon and the staff at Oxford Photo. Thank you for putting up with all of us and for doing a wonderful job with all our color work.

Thank you to all my section editors and to all others who helped on the book. Laura, Dayle, Margaret, Katherine, Heather, Michael — thanks to each of you. Thank you very much Jerry for the great Index art.

1. Portia Thomas, left, had the honor of meeting legendary bluesman B.B. King with me in Indianola. 3. Meeting Isla Wotherspoon from Scotland was one of the greatest parts of my summer.

More thanks than ever to my wonderful photography staff. Arne — your photography talent will be missed when you return home to Holland. I hope your experience here has been a wonderful one. I've enjoyed every minute of having you around. Katherine — I can't thank you enough for also sharing the wonderful talent you have with us. B.J. — as always, you know I love you even though we aren't always in the building at the same time. Thanks also to Misty, Natalie, Peter Emerson and all the other contributing photogs. Ollie Brock, a paragraph of your own. You are the best! You always could come up with just the picture that I was missing. I'll be sad not to see your face anymore.

Thanks to our new representative Kathy Wright at Taylor. It was a great change to be working with you. As always, to Greg Williams thanks for sweating another year out with me.

I hope I haven't left anyone out. I appreciate everyone who contributed to this book in any way.

Please cut the book down all you want. I won't be changing a thing next year. Seriously, I hope we got it all straight this year and no one is upside down or on the wrong page or doubled. . . many apologies to all those who were affected last year. If your photo was left out of anything for any reason, such as Who's Who, we tried and tried and tried to get you to come in and take your picture. I hate having to put "photo not available" in there but often I wasn't left much of a choice.

I wish Dayle much luck next year. Please everyone give her a break because she'll be learning this book from the very beginning. I admire your courage for wanting to take on what is not always a very glamorous job.

Thanks finally to Ole Miss and everyone for making my last year very special. I hope once again I captured another year at Ole Miss for you. I can say without regret that these have been the five best years of my life. Thank you and goodbye. August
